

.co.id

This article describes the procedures and requirements of .co.id domain names.
Click on the subject below to open the dropdown for more information.

Registration

Registration of a .co.id, .or.id or .web.id domain requires a local address of the domain owner and administrative contact. Furthermore, a copy of trademark documentation or commercial license is required. If all these are present a registration can be started by contacting our support department with the domain name, contact handles and nameservers you would like to use. We will initiate the procedure for you and send the necessary forms for registration. Note that the top level domain .id is available without local presence requirements.

Transfer

To transfer a .co.id domain, please retrieve the authorization code from the current registrar and send this to our support department together with the contact handles and the nameservers you would like to use. We will process the rest of the transfer for you.

Additional notes on a .co.id transfer

If your customer does not have a local presence, you may use our trustee service. The trustee service requires a power of attorney document that must be signed by the owner - you will get further details upon transfer start.

Update

Owner change (trade)

A trade is currently not available for .co.id domain names.

Other update

To update the contact details associated with a domain name you can modify the contact handles linked to the domain and it will be updated.

Deletion / Restore

Delete

You can delete a domain name by letting it expire at the end of the registration period or by deleting it manually.

Restore / reactivate

Reactivating a .co.id is unfortunately not possible.
