

Ownership domain certificate

Does OpenProvider generate Ownership certificates for every TLD?

Yes, the price is 15 euros. If you're interested, please first check the contact details being used for the domain, and once you have confirmed that the information is correct, send an email to support@openprovider.com requesting the certificate. Support and Legal Team will manage this.

I want something free of charge, what can I do?

There are a few options available to prove domain ownership. You may take a screenshot from the RCP (Reseller Control Panel) showing all the needed data (please ensure to hide any sensitive information like auth/EPP code), or use domain registration/transfer/renew invoice or whois information (if whois privacy protection is not enabled) to prove domain ownership.

What are the TLDs that provide certificates?

We will be adding more to the list:

1. .be - can be requested via the website of the Belgium registry.
2. .cl - please contact the support team as we must request it manually from the registry.
3. .es - can be requested by the owner from ESNIC. Please refer to FAQs
4. .nl - can be requested only by the registrant at the registry SIDN (English or Dutch)
5. .ru - can be requested by contacting the support department.
6. .com & .co - can be requested by contacting the support department.

Revision #2

Created 2026-08-07 14:49:46 UTC by Sarath

Updated 2026-08-07 15:59:19 UTC by Sarath