P.S. A lot of domain price changes are on the horizon - be sure to check the newsfeed in the control panel for details. Happy reading!

Updates about the NIS2 Directive

Bulk domain transfers without the bulk headaches

The thought alone of bulk domain transfers can be daunting. Traditional manual bulk domain transfers have proven to be slow, error-prone, and above all - costly. At Openprovider, we want to show that there is another way. We have the tools to make transfers can be straightforward and efficient, so you no longer have to be locked into an unsatisfactory service because of the fear of moving pains. Want to find out how? How to easily send white-labeled domain updates

Consumers today want to be spoken to on a personal level, not part of a huge group – your customers are no different. With Openprovider, you can send white-labeled domain updates directly from your authenticated domain. White-labeled emails not only enhance your brand's credibility but also provide a personalized experience for your clients - both critical ingredients to a long, successful partnership. Want to find out how it works?Click here to read the full article.

Finding new markets with niche TLDs

The days of mass marketing are over. If your small business doesn't stand out in the attention economy, it gets left behind – that's the cruel reality. Niche TLDs are an excellent way to help your customers' businesses stand out in a sea of .com addresses. Read on for 4 reasons why any reseller should resell niche TLDs, plus 10 examples that would make a great addition to any portfolio.Click here to read the full article.
